

ABOUT US

THE K+N ACADEMY

Knowledge is the basis for ability

The most important resource in companies is creativity. The play of ideas, however, requires an open communication and organizational culture. This increases the demands on the office and its design. Knowledge and technical competence become key qualifications for "office consultants" in project management and organizational consulting.

The K+N academy offers with its pool of renowned lecturers educational offers on high level, in order to make furnishers, planners and advisors fit for the future.

The topics orient themselves at the current developments of the working world and the conditions of the science. The spectrum reaches from product and ergonomics seminars over the development of modern furnishing concepts up to the realization of projects. The concept: from practice for practice. So that knowledge becomes skill.

The range of seminars includes events on the following topics:

ABOUT US

Products

Here we inform you about König + Neurath and our position in the market. Beginners and new colleagues will find basic tools and fundamental data here.

Service

Any service or support around König + Neurath and our joint range of services, whether on product level or as creative and creative service, is addressed in this complex.

Room quality

The "soft facts" in the modern office are served here. We talk to you about ergonomics in a broader sense, about acoustics and light in detail and very concretely and do not ignore trends and future research.

Communication

In this area, everything revolves around the most important factor in the entire sales process: the people in constant dialogue. Understanding, reaching, motivating, convincing, selling is the goal.

K+N SMART.OFFICE

Change in the world of work brings with it many challenges. With K+N SMART.OFFICE we ensure that these become opportunities. As part of our academy, we discuss with you how "smart" a modern furnishing concept must or may be, how it is to be planned and what added value it delivers.

Quality Office Consultant

In close cooperation with iba (Industrieverband Büro und Arbeitswelt e.V.) König + Neurath certifies interested consultants as Quality Office Consultants. Only in the controlled course of sophisticated consulting processes do modern and individual furnishing concepts emerge from high-quality office furniture.

Your personal contact for all questions about the K+N Academy is Georg Frech, Head of the K+N Academy. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you are interested in our offer: georg.frech@koenig-neurath.de
