

LONDON'S CREATIVE HEART.

Clerkenwell Design Week

CLERKENWELL DESIGN WEEK IN LONDON

The London district of Clerkenwell will be transformed into a pulsating centre of design and architecture for the 8th time from 23rd – 25th May

The event showcases the international design community, with exhibitions and lectures in unusual locations and stylish showrooms. A mixture of installations, street art, music and partying will ensure that these three days are a festival to remember. It's a fixed date in the international design industry calendar.

The showroom belonging to office furniture manufacturer König + Neurath is situated right in the heart of this area, at 52 Britton Street. This year they will be opening their doors to the design scene for the first time. Visitors can discover the AURAY task chair, a real highlight for design aficionados, and find inspiration in the relaxed atmosphere of modern office configurations. This is the perfect opportunity to meet existing and prospective customers, as well as to make new contacts.
